

The Gateway to the Media Student's Professionalism Pledge

I will always take responsibility for my content, my comments, my updates and affiliations.

I will always disclose to my interviewees who I am and how their information, audio, photo or video will be used. I will neither misrepresent myself, nor make promises I cannot deliver upon.

I will always remember that everything I put online is bigger than myself and I have no control over who sees and shares information.

I will always properly attribute sources and publish transparently.

I will never say anything online that I wouldn't say in person.

I will always conduct myself as a professional and with absolutely integrity. I also understand that I am still learning to be a professional and will post questions, seek appropriate examples and ask advice.
